Crippen Protests Innocence of Wife Murder.

London, Nov. 20.—Dr. Hawley H. Crippen, whose execution is set for Nov. 23, in a three-column signed statement in a Sunday paper says that he is not afraid to die and bows to the inevitable. He appeals to the world to remember that he was condemned on inconclusive evidence and asserts that the real truth will be revealed.

He knew nothing, he says, of the remains discovered in the Hill Drop Crescent house until Solicitor Newton told him the day after his arrival at Bow street. He was confident that if he could have been heard in court he would have been acquitted. He was not a murderer, he says, and he was not a coward.

The failure of his appeal, which he was convinced would reverse the judgment of the court, crushed and overwhelmed him and broke his heart because he had dreamed of building up a home with the woman without whom life was worthless.

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 18.—Myron Crippen, the aged father of Dr. H. H. Crippen, who is in prison in England under death sentence for the murder of his wife, Belle Elmore Crippen, is dying in destitute circumstances. In a little dingy room the elder Crippen, who is 80 years old, was discovered today suffering from pneumonia and near death. Death was imminent.

"I do not want to live to see Harvey hanged," the old man muttered over and over again.

PROGRESS OF A CENTURY

SOME THINGS FOLKS DID NOT HAVE 100 YEARS AGO.

One hundred years back we seem a long while ago, but when you remember that there are men living today whose fathers saw General Washington a century ago it does not seem so long after all. And up to the time of Washington 100 years did not mean very much to the human race.

When Washington died in 1799 people were using the same sort of appliances and doing the same things in the same way that they did in 1699 and even in 1599. In former years if a man could have returned to earth at the end of 100 years he would not have been very much surprised at any of the changes that had taken place during his absence. But if Washington or Franklin, or even Thomas Jefferson, who died less than a century ago, were to come back to earth now he would not know where he was. The world has changed more in the last 100 years than in any 1,000 years that have gone before.

To get some idea of the wonderful changes that have taken place, let us go back to Thanksgiving day in 1810, and note how many things our great-grandparents did not have which we have today. It will not only astonish us, but it will also make us realize how much we have to be thankful for.

In the first place, there was no Thanksgiving day in 1810, except in New England. It was only a little over forty years ago that the people all over the United States began to celebrate that day. Before that if one did not live in Boston or very close to it he probably would have never eaten a Thanksgiving dinner. But even those who were fortunate enough to live in New England did not have anything like the variety of good things for dinner that we have today. Of course, they had turkey and pumpkin pie and onions and cranberry sauce and potatoes; but they did not have tomatoes or corn or peas or string beans, or beets or asparagus or any of the other canned vegetables that we are accustomed to eating during the winter months. There were no canned goods of any kind. There were no tin cans. Neither were there any cars to bring fresh fruits and vegetables like strawberries and tomatoes and lettuce. In fact, there were then no such places in the United States as Florida and Texas and California. They were all of them waste places or foreign lands. They belonged to England and Spain and France and Mexico.

Oranges, bananas, pineapples, grape fruit, olives, Malaga grapes and other tropical fruits which are so familiar to us, were never seen in the markets of 1810. Boys and girls of that day only heard about them from travelers or read of them in books.

Dinners were cooked in fireplaces. There were no ranges. There were no gas stoves; no oil stoves; no coal stoves; no cook stoves of any kind. Housewives had no baking powder, no yeast cakes, self-raising flour, no granulated sugar, no flavoring extracts, no ground spices, no cocoa, no pot meats, no catsup, no prepared breakfast foods, no soda crackers, no macaroni. All the coffee had to be roasted and ground at home. Housekeepers had very few of the conveniences that they have today. They had no running water in the house, or stationary washbuds, or clothes wringers, or washing machines, or wire clothes lines. Neither had they refrigerators, or ice cream freezers, or egg beaters, or waffle irons, or meat grinders, or carpet sweepers, or ammonia, or borax, or gasoline, or moth balls, or fly paper, or fly screens. And they had no matches, and no electric lights or gas lights, and no kerosene.

There were no sewing machines in 1810. All clothes were not ready made things of any kind; not even shoes or hats. Nearly every family spun its own wool and flax, and made its own thread and yarn and cloth. The clothes for the boys and the girls and the men and women were made at home. So, alas, were the carpets, the candles, the soap, the mattresses and the chairs and tables. There were no furniture factories, no ready-made desks or book cases or bedsteads or anything else. Such things as were not made at home were made to order by the shoemaker, or the hatter, or the tailor, or the cabinetmaker. Clothing stores, shoe stores, hat stores and furniture stores were unheard of.

In 1810 nobody wore rubbers. That was because there were no rubber goods of any kind—over-shoes, waterproofs, rain coats, rubber balls, pencil erasers, hot water bags, or anything of that sort. There was no garden hose nor fire hose. There were no water mains, there were fire engines. When a house caught fire men put it out, if they could, by throwing buckets of water on the flames.

Fireplaces were the only means of keeping a house warm. There were no furnaces, no coal stoves. Here and there a wealthy family owned a wood burning stove, but that was a rare luxury. Steam heating and hot water heating were undreamed of. So, alas, were kitchen ranges and hot water boilers. There were no bath rooms, and there was no plumbing, and the towns had no sewers. And not only had they no sewers, but they had no street cars. Even horse cars were unknown. All city travel was done on foot or by means of horses and carriages. And if any one ventured out at night he carried his own light with him—a lantern with a candle in it; for there were no street lights. Electricity and gas and coal oil had not yet come into use. The moon was the best light a town could have at night.

Of course, there were no airships or automobiles or motorcycles in 1810. Neither were there any bicycles, nor any trolley cars, and there weren't even any railroads. The locomotive had not yet been invented, and the steamboat was being tried for the first time as an experiment.

All travel was done on horseback or by stage coach, and those who crossed the ocean did it as Columbus did—in a sailing vessel. It was a three days' journey from Philadelphia to Washington. Now you can make the trip in three hours. It took nearly a week for a letter to go from New York to Boston—as long a time as it now requires to send a letter to San Francisco or London, and the cost was six times as great. There were no postage stamps. The person who received a letter paid for it in cash according to the distance it had come. And there were no envelopes and no letter boxes. Letters were simply folded and the corners held together with sealing wax, and the address was written on the outside of the letter.

As there were no railroads, news traveled only as fast as a horse could run or a ship could sail. There were no wires to carry messages, for there was no telegraph, and there was no telephone. Consequently, there were not many newspapers and such news of the world as they gave was from several days to six months old. All printing was done by hand on wooden presses.

The paper was made from rags. All the writing was done with quill pens—the bony end of a feather plucked from a goose. There was no steel pens, no gold pens, no fountain pens, no manufactured lead pencils, no blotters, no typewriters. Pictures in books of persons or places were all made from sketches drawn by hand and engraved on wood. There were no photographs, no cameras, no kodaks. There was no such word as photography. Those who wanted portraits of themselves were obliged to hire an artist to paint their pictures.

But we must remember that in 1810 our great-grandparents were perfectly satisfied and contented without any of these things. They

Five Hundred Dollars Reward.

The Central of Georgia Railway Company will pay $500 reward for the arrest, with evidence to convict, the person or persons tampering with a main line switch at Oliver, Ga., on Saturday night, November 10, 1910, which caused derailment of second section of train No. 19.

T. S. MOISE, General Manager.

Short and to the Point.

One of the shortest speeches recorded in forensic annals is that of Tannin, afterward a judge. Charles Phillips, an Irish orator, had made a flowery speech in an assault case. Tannin, who was for the defendant, said in reply, "My friend's eloquent complaint amounts, in plain English, to this—that his client has received a good, sound horse-whipping—and my defense is as short—that he richly deserved it."

The Boy and the Bear.

"Have you ever heard the story of 'Algy and the bear'?" asked a boy of his father. "It's very short. 'Algy met a bear; the bear was hungry; the bulge was Algy.'—London News."

I do not know of any way so sure of making others happy as being so oneself.—Sir Arthur Hops.

Wesson Snowdrift Oil

FOR SALADS AND COOKING—turns the dullest of the most into a pleasure. No matter what the day's preparation calls for, either in salad dressings, for frying or for baking. Wesson Snowdrift Oil brings the same superior results. It is an absolutely pure vegetable oil, which cooks thoroughly through and through WITHOUT ANY GREASY RESIDUE. It is the equal of the finest French butter for cooking; is superior to lard as a shortening and infinitely more healthful; it is a perfectly refined oil for salads, sauces, etc., basting, etc., and in fact, from every point of view and for every service, it is positively the peer of all the world as a healthful, economical oil. Let every attempt at substitution when you require anything interior, and remember that there is nothing "just as good."

From the waist down a woman wearing a "hobble" looks like an inverted electric light globe—and some of 'em are dazzling.

Women that wear the "hobble" are developing the look step—and it appears to a man as if they ought to be put where that is the only step taught.

Wesson Snowdrift Oil

FOR SALADS AND COOKING—turns the dullest of the most into a pleasure. No matter what the day's preparation calls for, either in salad dressings, for frying or for baking. Wesson Snowdrift Oil brings the same superior results. It is an absolutely pure vegetable oil, which cooks thoroughly through and through WITHOUT ANY GREASY RESIDUE. It is the equal of the finest French butter for cooking; is superior to lard as a shortening and infinitely more healthful; it is a perfectly refined oil for salads, sauces, etc., basting, etc., and in fact, from every point of view and for every service, it is positively the peer of all the world as a health

Don't abuse the weather man.

Farwell, a long farewell to the iceman.

Fine weather brings out fine birds
on the lake.

Some men make good money, but mighty little of it.

A throne upholstered by bayonets is sure to fall sooner or later.

Aviators are pulling down some rich prizes from the upper air.

From women down to census returns we are against padding.

As a juggernaut the aeroplane is running the automobile a mighty close race.

A western farmer extinguish a blaze in his kitchen with milk.
Enough said.

We've come to the conclusion that autumn has spring beaten forty ways from the jack.

In an aeroplane race there seems to be no such possibility as betting on a sure thing.

Here is where the foolhardy man begins a dangerous intimacy with the pneumonia germ.

The age of aviation calls for a race of spectators with eyes on the tops of their heads.

Japan exported nearly 1,000,000 pounds of human hair last year. Do you buy your wife her share?

With forty bankers in the Leavenworth prison that institution is becoming too aristocratic for plain folks.

If you chew your food with sufficient care you will live a long time.
In fact, you will have to live a long time.

Cheer up! Soon the big chrysanthemums will be competing for the world's championship at the flower show.

Strictly fresh eggs are said to be few, but that does not discourage the cheerful sign painter at the corner grocery.

So many automobile accidents at railroad grade crossings teach the necessity of care on the part of drivers.

There are lovely bits of coloring to be observed about sunrise these crisp mornings, not including that on the early pedestrian's nose.

Chicago university professors have quit making sensational statements.
One of 'em tells us a bit of news that "Woman has ruled man for centuries."

A Virginia father with 86 children is a convict, but under the circumstances he deserves some sympathy. Think of supporting such a family on the average salary!

There is a man in New Zealand who lays claim to $167,000,000 worth of property in New York city. He would have a better chance if the New Yorkers had not seen it first.

In one respect the colleges are not up to date. They issue no life and sickness insurance policies to the young men who go out on the football field to battle for alma mater.

Atlanta Gets Labor Meeting.

St. Louis.—The American Federation of Labor closed its thirteenth annual convention here by choosing Atlanta as its next meeting place. The union has a long distance to travel and other was evidently annoyed.

"You don't seem to like my whistling," said the lady one day, after a five-minute continuous performance.

"No, I don't," was the frank reply.

"Well," continued the other, "maybe you think you are an enough to stop it."

"No, I don't think I am," rejoined the other, "but I hope you are."

And the whistling was discontinued.

The Philosopher of Polly.

"Don't marry your stenographer," advises the Philosopher of Polly. "She belongs to the union and knows the rules, and she'll never let you live another one."

GENERAL WOOD FAVORS

A BIG VOLUNTEER ARMY

UNITED STATES ARMY NOT PRE-PARED FOR WAR, SAYS THE CHIEF OF STAFF.

TO RE-ESTABLISH CANTEN

General Wood Paints a Gloomy Picture of Shortcomings of U. S.
Army in Annual Report.

Washington.—Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood, chief of staff, paints a rather gloomy picture of the lack of preparation of the army in case of war in his annual report to the secretary of war.

There are weak spots in many directions, he says, and most serious is the shortage of field artillery and ammunition, a fault which should be immediately attended to. General Wood declares that there is a great lack of reserve season ammunition, and that at the present rate of appropriation by congress, it will take more than fifty years to obtain a reasonable supply of ammunition for the coast defense and a still longer time to secure the necessary number of field artillery guns and ammunition. It is regular army and organized militia at war strength were called to arms now, says General Wood, there would be a shortage of more than 50 per cent. in the field artillery, the scarcity of situation becomes apparent.

General Wood strongly urges the passage by congress of the bill pending for raising a volunteer army in time of war. He says this will compromise in time of peace, and will save the government millions of dollars in time of war. The present law is so unsatisfactory and vague that the general staff cannot make preparations in advance for its execution in event of war.

Other needs of the military service are set out in the report, including the addition of 400 officers to replace those detailed from the duties for staff and militia work; the creation of a reserve of not less than three hundred thousand men who have served in the regular army or militia; the concentration of the army in large posts; the re-establishment of two cabines, and finally the increase of the signal corps and the acquisition of aeroplanes.

NEGRO MURDERER LYNCHED.

Swift Vengeance Dealt by a South Carolina Mob.

Little Mountain, S. C.—With his head bowed and his hands behind his back, a negro, lying dead on the side of Little Mountain. He was lynched for the murder and attempted rape of a white woman, the daughter of a well-to-do planter of this section. The crime was committed in the yard of the home of the white woman, who was alone. Her body was almost severed with a knife, following a fierce struggle with the negro. The negro was employed by the father of the girl and had worked on the place for some years. There were at least 1,000 men in the mob.

GRANGE RESOLUTIONS.

Radical Changes in the Payne-Aldrich Tariff Law Suggested.

Atlantic City, N. J.—Resolutions calling for drastic reformation of all tariffs of the country and giving the interstate commerce commission power to nullify freight and passenger rates proved to be extortionate, were adopted by the National Grange.
Radical changes in the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill and physical valuation of railroad trunk lines were also urged by the farmers.

Federal aid for road improvement, the parcels post, conservation of natural resources, a national income tax, direct election of United States senators, agricultural extension and a non-partisan tariff commission were included in the report of the resolution committee, which became the progressive platform of the agriculturists.

"Uncle Joe" Talks Politics.

Washington.—Speaker Joseph G.
Cannon returned to Washington while mildly depressed. He said that the recent election in which he said:
"A majority has made a mistake in giving our friends, the Democrats, the control of the sixty-second congress."

He added: "We are responsible for the remains to be seen what they will do.
I should be glad if they find themselves able to redeem their promises in the campaign—to reduce the cost of living and increase the price of labor."

3,000 Pales of Cotton Burned.

Troy, Ala.—The Atlantic Compress company's warehouse and compress in this city were completely destroyed by fire and the buildings and machinery are a complete loss. Between 2,500 and 3,000 bales of cotton were also destroyed in the flames. The Atlantic Coast Line and the Central of Georgia railroads lost several freight cars.
The loss is estimated at $300,000, which is only partly covered by insurance. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Work Long Hours.

Most workers in Switzerland are employed about eleven hours a day.

HE HAS CRUSHED REVOLUTION.

GENERAL D. PORFIRIO DIAZ, PRESIDENT OF MEXICO.

ANARCHY FOLLOWS REVOLT

MEXICO, AFTER CRUSHING THE REVOLUTION, IS FACING
ANOTHER TASK.

Madero, the Revolution Leader, Has Disappeared, Despite Efforts of the Agents of Diaz.

Mexico City, Mexico.—With the Madero revolution practically crushed out of the Mexican government found a task
in the regular army or militia; the
concentration of the army in large
posts; the re-establishment of two ca-
bines, and finally the increase of the signal corps and the acquisition of aeroplanes.

Government agents continued their activities throughout the states in the danger zone, buying up all the arms and ammunition they could find. They have acquired thousands of guns and millions of rounds of ammunition already.

The jails are full to overflowing, and secret trials will soon be ordered by the government. Following the drastic policy of President Diaz, it is fully expected that scores will be executed.

Mexico City maintains the quiet that has marked it through the entire uprising. Americans are not molested on the streets, and the newspapers print subdued accounts of the conflicts between troops and rebels.

New Orleans.—James M. Reid, who was killed in Mexico City, was the victim of Sebastian Yagel, a policeman, who sought to avenge the burning of Antonio Rodriguez in Texas by taking the life of an American.
According to a Mexico City dispatch, James M. Reid, a civil engineer of Houston, Miss., was killed in a political riot. Reid, who had lived in Memphis three years, went to Mexico with L. B. Loller, four weeks ago.

Insurance Men Found Guilty.

Newport News, Va.—Twenty officers and committeemen of the National Eastern Underwriters' association, who were found guilty of "maliciously and in wanton disregard of the rights of the public" increasing the rates of fire insurance in the city of Newport News, Va., and fined $400 each by a jury drawn from Southampton county, in the corporation court. This prosecution was based entirely on the common law statute concerning the exacting no statute to cover the proceedings. The trial lasted a month.

$1,000 for Three Eggs.

New York.—Three speckled eggs of the common red breasted snipe have just been added to the collection of J. L. Childs of Floral Park, L. I. The bird is worth $1,000. Common as the bird on Long Island is mottled, olive brown eggs are very hard to get hold of. The snipe are in the hands of health at a meeting held in Ruston, La. The order likewise provides for the appearance of exclud-
ers, on for every third seat, at least,
in all passenger coaches running through this state. The same regulation applies to school buses.

Ban on Public Drinking Cups.

New Orleans, La.—A ban has been placed on the public drinking cup in this city. The ban is to be in force it will have to disappear from all railway trains and school houses in the state by March 1, 1911, according to an order issued by the Louisiana board of health at a meeting held in Ruston, La. The order likewise
provides for the appearance of exclud-
ers, on for every third seat, at least,
in all passenger coaches running through
this state. The same regulation applies to school buses.

BANNER WHISKEY YEAR

GOVERNMENT REPORTS SHOW MORE WHISKEY THAN EVER BEFORE.

"MOONSHINING" INCREASING

1,911 Illicit Distilling Plants, Mostly in the South, Were Closed
During the Year.

Washington.—The United States has just passed through a banner year for drinks and smokes and other things. Here is the nation's record for twelve months ended on June 30, as it shows in the figures of the internal revenue bureau:

One hundred and eighty-three million gallons of distilled spirits—30, 000,000 gallons more than the year before.

Forty-nine million four hundred and eighty-five thousand one hundred and seventeen barrels of fermented liquors, an increase of 2,000,000,000.

Seven billion six hundred million cigarettes, 100,000,000 more than in 1909.

Six billion eight hundred and thirty million cigarettes, an increase of a billion.

Four hundred and two million pounds of opium, five out, cube cut, granulated or sliced smoking or chewing tobacco or snuff, 4,000,000 more than the year before.

One hundred and forty-one million eight hundred and sixty-two thousand two hundred and eighty-two pounds of oleomargarine, 50,000,000 pounds increase.

Illicit distilling and other manufacturing of moonshine whiskey—on the increase, "especially," the bureau says, "where there are state-wide prohibition laws."

The internal revenue receipts on all these things, and certain other things, such as playing cards and mixed food, amounted to more than $289,000,000; Commissioner Cabell's organization collected it all at a cost of about $7, 000,000. It cost a penny and a little more than seven mills to collect each dollar.

When the present year is ended next June 30, Commissioner Cabell estimated his men will have collected at least $308,000,000 at practically the same cost.

Only three years have surpassed the present in an internal revenue producer, since the bureau was established in 1862.

Commissioner Cabell's report, speaking of illicit distilling, says Alabama, Georgia, North Carolina and South Carolina led in offenses of that character. During the year officers closed 1,911 such plants, 200 more than the year before.

Cudahy, the Packer, Dead.

Chicago.—Michael Cudahy, founder of the packing firm bearing his name, died at a hospital here of pneumonia.
Mr. Cudahy had been ill for five days.
He was born in Ireland, in the county of Kilkenny, in 1841, and came to the United States in 1867, settling at Milwaukee, Wis. In 1885, while a boy of 15, Mr. Cudahy became an employee in a Milwaukee packing house, and this marked the beginning of his career in the packing industry.

25 Girls Burned to Death.

Newark, N. J.—Trapped in an inferno of fire, 25 girls, 400 men and girls fought for their lives when the five-story building of a paper box manufacturing concern was destroyed by fire. In ten minutes twenty-five girls were burned to death, and the death of the others was only a matter of time.
A garden of friendship is a pretty fancy and one that gives lasting pleasure.

Montgomery Paper Fined.

Article About Trial of Blind Tigers
Cause of the Case.

Montgomery, Ala.—Because of an item published in the Montgomery Advertiser concerning the conviction of seven prohibition violators, Judge Armstrong Brown of the city court imposed a fine of $50 on The Advertiser.
The chief objections to the article were that it was untrue, that the existence of a conversation between the defendants and suspended, and that remaining violators were expected to plead guilty.

Wireless Heard Across Continent.

Valley, Cal.—A strange case of wireless messages between Key West, Fla., and Norfolk, Va., was picked up at the United States government station at the Mare Island navy yard. Every day a conversation was held between operators on the Atlantic coast was distinctly read. An attempt was made to send a message from the Mare Island station to Key West, a distance of 2,800 miles. The message was completed but direct communication cannot be established across the continent.

Population of Ohio.

Washington.—The population of the state of Ohio is 4,707,121, according to the census of the thirteen census.
This is an increase of 69,576, or 1.47 per cent. over 4,637,545 in 1900.

Doctor Grippen Hanged.

London, England.—Dr. Hawley H.
Grippen, the American dentist, was hanged for the murder of his actress wife, Belle Elmore. Grippen, 47 years old, was found guilty of the crime and was executed by hanging. The execution took place at the gallows at the drop.

Mexican Rebels Routed.

Chihuahua, Mexico.—In an engagement near this city, which lasted five hours, six hundred Federal troops routed a force of four hundred Ma-deristas, driving them repeatedly from strong positions and compelling them to take to the wooded mountains. The revolutionists lost fifteen killed and many wounded. There were no fatalities on the Federal side, but several, including three officers, were wounded. General Navarro was in command of the Federal troops.

Macon Wants the Capital.

We admire the pluck Macon has displayed in attempting to feed Atlanta dose of her own diet. Atlanta entered into a vigorous campaign for the removal of Mercer University from Macon to Atlanta. If there is one thing more than another that Macon is proud of, it is her prestige as an educational center. Mercer, the Baptist school for boys, and Wesleyan, the Methodist female institution, are worthy to be proud of.

It was proper, then, that Macon should resent the attempt to pluck from her bosom one of these ornaments; and her method of resentment was as unique as it will be effective. She said to Atlanta, not only are we going to keep Mercer, but we are going to try to have the state capital removed to Macon; and now the campaign is on in earnest.

It may be that Macon has no hope of securing the removal of the capital, but she will at least force Atlanta to let up in her efforts to take from her smaller sister one of her brightest jewels. Meantime there is developing quite a strong sentiment in favor of removing the state capital to the more central location.

The Senatorial Primary.

The discussion on the subject of a senatorial primary to elect a successor to Hon. Joe Terrell, who was recently appointed by Gov. Brown, continues to grow in enthusiasm. And the lie-up on the subject is intensely interesting as displaying the varying interests of the opposing factions. The crowd who are supposed to have always stood against a popular vote in such matters, are howling for a primary, and the crowd who have always demanded the rule of the people cannot see the necessity of imposing the burden of a needless election.

A right interesting spectacle this and there's a reason. Joe Terrell is the biggest man in the Brown faction, and would receive the united support of that faction in a primary. Outside of Hoke Smith himself, there is no man who could command the united vote of the Smith faction. Hoke Smith does not want to surrender the governorship to enter a contest against Terrell, and yet his faction do not want to see that gentleman walk away with the senatorship. The next legislature is in the hands of the Smithites, and can defeat Terrell if the election comes before that body. He might manage to win himself in a primary.

These are the reasons for the present reversed attitudes of the two factions. It is not so much a love for popular elections as it is a longing for another chance at political life that moves the Terrellites. And it is a desire to hold fast to that which they already have that is moving the Smithites.

The Times favors Hoke Smith for any office within the gift of the people, and believes him worthy and qualified for any office that any other living man is. He has been elected to serve the people as governor of the state, and we believe he recognizes it as his duty to serve them in that capacity for another term. Great as his desire to go to the United States Senate, we believe that his sense of duty will force him to forego that honor, which now seems easily in his grasp. There is one contingency on which he might be forced to offer for the senatorship—that would be where the election of Terrell or some other member of that faction was the alternative. The people will demand that that office be held by the progressives.

Another thought about the hue and cry of the Terrell crowd for a primary: When the appointment was in the hands of their governor, it was not thought necessary that the people should be called upon in a primary to direct the governor's appointment. The law that makes it the duty of the governor to appoint a senator until the next session of the legislature, is the same law that makes it the duty of the legislature to elect a senator for the balance of the unexpired term.

Twenty Bales to a Mule, And That Mule Not Large

As a sample of Bulloch county farming, how does twenty bales to the mule strike you? And when you learn that the mule weighs only 720 pounds, how much harder are you struck?

Well, that is the record made by Mike Brown, a Statesboro colored farmer, this year, and now Mike's got more money in the bank than lots of people ever saw—in fact, more than Mike ever saw before he went to farming, and Mike is a right industrious negro and has always made good wages without saving much.

Mike farmed the present year on Mr. W. L. Street's place, just west of Statesboro. He furnished his own little mule and got for his share one-half the crop. He planted 32 acres in sea island cotton, and has already gathered 20 bales. Half the crop goes to him for his work, and that half amounts to 10 bales, weighing 500 pounds each. At an average price of 30 cents per pound, Mike got $1,500 for his share; take from that the expense of marketing and his net share is over $1,200—more than $100 per month!

How is that for farming in Bulloch county?

A woman will take a man's word for anything if it happens to be at a time when she is planning on a new hat.

The atmosphere of hades does not present so many drawbacks to the man who is used to cold storage sermons.

The Doctor's First Question
"How are your bowels?" This is generally the first question the doctor asks. He knows what a sluggish liver means. He knows what a long list of distressing complaints result from constipation. He knows that headaches, bilious attacks, indigestion, impure blood, and general debility are often promptly relieved by a good liver pill. We wish you would talk with your own doctor about this subject. Ask him at the same time if he approves of Ayer's Pills. Do as he says. J.C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

City and County
Mr. and Mrs. D. Barnes are visiting Atlanta for several days during the week.
Mrs. Strange has returned from a visit of several weeks with her daughters in Kiffinham county.
Mr. Otis Donehoo, of Atlanta, is spending awhile in the city, the guest of his brother, Dr. J. E. Donehoo.
Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Lester, of Savannah, spent several days during the week visiting the family of Mr. R. F. Lester.
Mrs. W. W. Tinley has returned from a week's visit with the family of her son, Rev. J. W. Tinley, at Rocky Ford.

Mr. Chas. Pretorius is so far recovered from his recent illness that he is able to visit among friends in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. T. V. Mikell, of Sullivan, and Dr. and Mrs. D. O. DeLoach spent Thanksgiving with the family of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Mikell.

Friends of Mrs. J. L. Mathews are rejoiced at her improved condition. After a stay of several weeks in a sanitarium following an operation, she is now at home.

A new business is that of E. G. Boylston, now being opened up on West Main, in one of Brannen's new stores. Mr. Boylston will run an up-to-date restaurant and fancy grocery.

Messrs. Joe Hall, of Claxton; M. L. Smith and J. F. Bonnett, of Sulston; R. R. Cartee, of Metter; J. C. Denmark, of Brooklet; I. L. Bloodworth, of Route 1, and S. J. Hendley Jr., of Route 4, are among those who have remembered the Truxes during the week with an advance of a year's subscription.

Mrs. Mary Harris Armour, a lecturer in the cause of temperance, spoke last evening in the Methodist church here. She is one of the most prominent women in public life today, possessing rare ability as a speaker, and her lecture last evening was a delight to her audience.

The purchase of the Perry Kennedy business by Messrs. B. A. Trapnell and L. M. Mikell last week, was an important transaction. These young men will retain their present positions, Mr. Mikell with the Simmons Co., and Mr. Trapnell with the Sea Island Bank, until January 1st, when they will take active charge of the business and move it into new quarters now being prepared in the Holland block. Mr. Kennedy will be with the business until January 1st, after which he will go to Emanuel county to assume charge of his extensive farming interests.

Prizes in Corn Contest.
The corn contest inaugurated by the Bank of Statesboro has come to a close, and announcement of the winners is made herewith. Prizes aggregating $136 in gold were offered for the best yield per acre. Seventy-odd contestants were in at the beginning, and most of them went through to the end. The lowest yield of any acre measured was something over 49 bushels, and a great many were reported between that quantity and the prize winners, whose awards are as follows:

1st—John E. Boyd ..... 94 28 1/2 2nd—J. W. Forbes ..... 89 56 20
3rd—O. H. Cribbs ..... 87 56 10
4th—John Deal Co. .... 83 60 5
5th—Herbert Franklin ..... 82 24 1

Mims Howard Will Recover.
Mims Howard, the young man who was recently shot and severely wounded by an attack of the Strunk Carnival Co. at Brooklet, is said to be improving, with excellent chances of recovery.

Howard was shot in the shoulder with a pistol, the ball passing through his lung and striking his spinal chord, which completely paralyzed him from the waist down. It was thought impossible for him to live, and his recovery is a pleasant surprise to his friends.

Boys' Corn Contest Off.
Special Agent B. S. Mooney, of the government demonstration work, informs the TIMES that the boys' corn contest has been withdrawn for the present year. This was done on account of the very small number of entrants in the contest.

A number of very valuable prizes had been donated for this contest, and these will be held until next year, when, with the addition of other prizes, the contest will be inaugurated on a larger scale.

After instituting the contest, Mr. Mooney was required to give his full time to the demonstration work, and was unable to push the boys' contest as he had planned, hence the decision to call the contest off.

Negro Killed at Adabelle.

Will Ragan was killed by Peter West at Adabelle Sunday afternoon. Both are negroes. Ragan was West's son-in-law, and the killing is said to have been the result of Ragan's abuse of his wife.

West claims that Ragan had beaten his wife (West's daughter), and that when she ran home for protection, Ragan followed her with a pistol in his hand. West closed the door of his house and forbade Ragan to enter, but he burst the door open and came in. When he did so, West shot and killed himself instantly.

West went at once to Mr. T. J. Denmark, who resides on the Adabelle property, and surrendered. The sheriff was telephoned for and West is now in jail.

City Election.

An election for a mayor and five councilmen for the city of Statesboro for the ensuing year, is hereby called to be held on Saturday, December 3, 1910. At said election the polls will open at 7 a. m. and close at 5 p. m.

Rev. M'Lemore Goes to Dalton.

His many friends in Statesboro will be interested in the announcement of the removal of Rev. J. S. M'Lemore from Thomson to Dalton, Ga., where he goes to accept the pastorate of the Baptist church.

Dalton, Ga., Nov. 26.—By telegram today Rev. J. S. M'Lemore, of Thomson, notified the First Baptist church that he would accept the call extended him, and would come here the first of the year to accept the pastorate.

That the members of the church are highly pleased at the acceptance of Dr. M'Lemore is putting it mildly.

He preached here several times recently and met with universal favor, the church being altogether united in wanting him to accept the pastorate.

Who Are You?
Did you ever notice with how much respect is held the young man with a bank account? He is in an entirely different class from the young fellow who carries his money in his pocket. The one is known as a conservative young business man whose prospects for success are quite evident. The other is considered a spendthrift who has yet the principles of industry to learn. Young man, half your success is assured the moment you open a bank account. There will be the changing point in your career. There's where you cease to be the "kid" and enter the "young business man" class. Here you are no longer Sam Smith's boy, but the younger Mr. Smith. Come in and let us start you on the road to success.

SPECIALLY FINE
FOR LAYER CAKE

Box of Cigars, $2,000.

New York, Nov. 24.—A box of cigars sold for $2,000 last night at the Madison Square Garden. Senator Joseph W. Bailey, of Texas, sold them and John H. Shults, of Port Chester, N. Y., bought them. He offered three thousand, but the senator was content to take two. Shults is a well known horse breeder, who for years has made it an ironclad rule never to buy or sell except at a public auction. His handsome black stallion, Prince McKinney, went to Senator Bailey tonight for $1,750, and the moment the hammer fell Shults was sorry he had sold at that money. "Senator," he said, "I'll give you $3,000 for a box of cigars if you'll throw in the horse."

The senator refused to press his advantage, and let the cigars go for $2,000, which was $250 more than he had paid.

School ma'ams should never let their pupils court them. It is not fair to teach them something during school hours and then make fools of 'em afterwards.

Sea Island Cotton Land For Sale—$15 per Acre

I have for sale in Tattnall county, just across the Bulloch county line, about fifteen hundred acres of very fine land. It will produce sea island cotton and other crops as abundantly as any soil in Bulloch county. It is in a body and is nicely located. It is within two or three miles of the railroad and is a splendid stock range. No improvements. Must be seen to be appreciated. If quickly sold can be purchased at $15 per acre. Would want part cash and give terms on balance.

SOUTH'S BIG CORN CROP

AN INCREASE OF NEARLY 60 PER CENT IN TWO YEARS.

New York, December 3.—One cause of the sagging tendency in the corn market is the excellent prospects of that crop in the south. This year fourteen Southern states will produce near 1,000,000,000 bushels of corn. This includes states south of the Potomac and Texas, Arkansas and Oklahoma west of the Mississippi. The yield mentioned is nearly one-third of the total corn crop of the country, which the department of agriculture on November 1 placed at 3,121,381,000 bushels.

A year ago the corn crop of the south was $50,000,000 bushels, and two years ago it was little more than 600,000,000 bushels. An increase of nearly 60 per cent in two years has had a wonderful effect on the improvement in the economic position of the southern farmer. There are two states this year which will grow more than 100,000,000 bushels of corn apiece—Texas and Kentucky, with Tennessee running a close third, with 96,000,000 bushels, and Tennessee with 92,000,000 bushels.

This year the southern states will import a good deal less corn from the west than in any previous year since the south regained its prosperity. There have been years within the past decade in which it took from five to ten pounds of cotton to pay for a bushel of imported corn. Now most of the states have both the cotton and the corn, and the difference is to be measured in the form of a surplus which tells in the number of bank accounts and general improvement of the section's purchasing power in all directions. Abundance of corn must soon be followed by improved live stock and more meat production, thus cutting off another drain from the purse of the southern farmer in supplying the annual requirements of "hog and hominy."

DISTRICT SCHOOL NEEDS ROOM

DORMITORIES NOW TAKEN BEYOND THEIR CAPACITY.

Savannah, Nov. 30.—A congested state of affairs at the First-Congressional District Agricultural School at Statesboro was responsible for the visit to Savannah today of President H. C. J. Dickens, who came to confer with Mr. J. Randolph Anderson, chairman of the board of trustees, relative to making more room for the rapidly increasing number of students. Mr. Dickens is pleased with his conference with Mr. Anderson, the latter having stated that he will go to Statesboro next week to look the situation over and make recommendations at the next meeting of the trustees of the school that more space be provided for the students.

Mr. Dickens says his school is outgrowing all available space, and unless provision is made for the number of youths who want to take agricultural courses many are going to be deprived of that privilege. An idea of the growth can be had from the statement of President Dickens that last year when he took control of the school there were forty students enrolled. Now there are 140 and the number is increasing. President Dickens says if he had the dormitory room he could double the present number of students. This has caused him to make the appeal to the trustees that some improvement be made to accommodate the boys and girls who are bound to come for instruction in the First District Agricultural School. It is the intention of Mr. Dickens in the near future to have built two cottages to accommodate his family and that of the superintendent. In this way they could leave the dormitories and give this additional room for students. Mr. Dickens said today, in discussing the situation:

"I am grateful for the generous co-operation given our school by the good people of the First congressional district. In each of the 12 counties the farmers are manifesting a keen interest in the work of the school and sending their boys and girls to us for instruction. Not only are the boys coming to our school, but our facilities are attracting the daughters of the farmers. We have a domestic science department, domestic art and a strong music department. These advantages have drawn fifty splendid young women, and I know of at least twenty-five more who want to come if we had room. No school on earth has a nobler set of boys and girls than ours. Their department and their disposition to do honest work commends them very strongly to our faculty. In each department we have a strong teacher, thoroughly competent and in sympathy with the spirit of the institution. When we know that all this is true, it is no wonder that I now realize that if I had the room in the dormitories we would have 250 students by January." He continued:

"It would be personally unpleasant for us to be forced to turn any worthy young man or woman away for want of room. And to avoid this we are going to make every effort to provide space between now and January 1st. However, I would suggest that any young man or woman who is considering entering our school for the spring term write now and make formal application for room."

BIG BUSINESS TRANSFER

BROOKS SIMMONS BUYS ENTIRE STOCK OF SIMMONS CO.

On January 1st W. H. Simmons will retire from business, having sold his interest in the Simmons Co. to Brooks Simmons, who now owns the entire stock of the company.

The deal is one of the most important transactions in local business circles in many years, as the Simmons Co. is the largest business concern in this section of the state.

For his hundred and fifty shares of stock Mr. W. H. Simmons was understood to have received $40,000 in cash. The entire capital stock of the company is four hundred and fifty shares, from which it will be seen that the business now owned by Mr. Brooks Simmons is valued at $120,000.

The two Messrs. Simmons have been associated together in business for 22 years, and have been sole owners of the Simmons Co. since the retirement of Mr. R. Simmons four years ago. Together they have built up a business which is a credit to their ability, and a pleasure to their friends. Each in his own department—W. H. as buyer and manager of sales, and Brooks as the financial manager—has contributed equally to the steady growth of the firm's business year after year.

The change in the firm is understood to be largely due to Mr. W. H. Simmons' health and a desire for rest. He has been a notoriously hard worker, and has not taken a vacation in nearly twenty years. He will, it is understood, rest for a year or longer, beyond which time he has no plans for the future.

Couldn't Face the Music.
New York, Dec. 2.—While his intended bride and scores of guests waited for his appearance for the wedding, George Loeffler, a prosperous young business man of Brooklyn, went to the home to which he had expected to bring his wife and killed himself. The remains were found several hours later with a tube clinched between the dead man's teeth and the gas jet to which it was attached turned on full force.

THE CITY IN NEW HANDS

McDOUGALD ELECTED MAYOR WITHOUT OPPOSITION.

It is now Mayor McDougald.

Associated with him in the administration of the city's affairs are Councilmen C. H. Parrish, J. J. Zetterower, A. J. Mooney, Brooks Simmons and J. J. E. Anderson.

This ticket was nominated in a primary last Thursday, and Saturday's election confirmed the nominations.

The primary was made a little lively by the presence of two councilmanic tickets in the field, both naming McDougald for mayor and Brooks Simmons and A. J. Mooney for councilmen. The three named on the losing ticket were S. A. Rogers, E. L. Smith and E. C. Oliver. These gentlemen were not candidates for the office in any sense, and did not solicit votes, though they permitted their friends to vote for them.

The presence of two tickets in the primary had the effect to bring out a larger vote than usual, the total being 243.

It will be seen that the new administration is composed of a majority of the last council. J. A. McDougald, who is elected mayor, has been on the council for three years, as has also J. J. Zetterower; while Drs. Mooney and Parrish have each been on for two years. The new members of the administration are Brooks Simmons and J. J. E. Anderson.

In Saturday's election only about 113,000 votes were cast. A slight independent movement was inaugurated early in the voting in favor of J. B. Burns as councilman, and a dozen or more votes were cast for him before he found it out, and he requested that the movement be discontinued.

Two New Banks

For the Coming Year.

The promise is that the first of the new year will witness the establishment of two new banks in Statesboro. At the head of one of these will be R. Simmons, associated with a number of leading farmers and business men in the county.

The other bank, it is understood, will be a private institution owned by W. S. Prestorius and J. A. Brannen. This will be conducted in the new building now being completed by Mr. Prestorius on East Main street. D. F. McCoy will be cashier.

Temporary quarters for the Simmons bank (which will be known as the Farmers' Bank) will be provided in the Mercantile Company's store. Among those interested with Mr. Simmons will be J. A. McDougald, J. W. Williams, Harris Sharp, J. C. Denmark, S. C. Allen, and J. N. Atkins. Mr. Simmons will probably be president. The capital stock of $25,000 has already been subscribed.
